Short Profile

Neka Rusyda Supriatna is a Library Science graduate from Universitas Indonesia and she has been working as a communication media staff member at the Indonesia Judicial Research Society (IJRS) since 2018. Over the past six years, Neka has developed various creative content for IJRS's social media, aiming to make legal information more engaging and accessible for young people. Through platforms like Instagram (@ijrs_official) and TikTok (@lifeatijrs), Neka has successfully communicated complex legal issues in a light and educational manner.

Additionally, Neka actively collaborates with various civil society organizations that focus on similar research topics as IJRS, such as child marriage, sexual violence, and human trafficking. Her dedication to packaging and disseminating legal information reflects her commitment to empowering the younger generation to be more aware of their legal rights and social issues in Indonesia.
